Subject : Question bank of Multiple choice questions

This is to bring to the notice of all the colleges that the end semester examination of May 2020 cannot be conducted at the scheduled date because of COVID-2019. To compensate for the delay and keeping the interests of the students in mind, there is a possibility of conducting the end semester examination by the online mode in the form of multiple choice questions.

The university is in the process of preparing a question bank which will be utilised for the conduct of the online examination. The faculty of the colleges will set MCQs for the subjects which is being taken by him/her in the current/previous semesters. The details are as follows:-

1. Each faculty will set questions for at least two subjects. The Director/Head of the institution will ensure that all the subjects of their department should be allotted to the faculty.
2. Each subject should contain 100 multiple choice questions.
3. The questions should be set unitwise. For e.g. a subject has four units, then the faculty will set 25 questions from each unit.
4. Questions should be set carefully and there should be no grammatical errors.
5. It should be ensured that the questions are not repeated.
6. The questions should not be copied from the internet as this may facilitate copying in the examination.
7. There should be four choices to answer in each question.
8. Solutions are to be provided along with the questions(in case of numerical)
9. Answer key has to be prepared very carefully along with the question paper.
10. The format in which questions are to be given will be given soon as per the compatibility of the software to be used for conduct of examination.
11. The questions are to be kept confidential.

Please keep the questions ready and the same may be compiled in the format as soon as it is provided. Kindly treat it as most urgent.
